FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 2013. 8PM
Dekelboum Concert Hall . $40/ $32 subscriber . $10 student

The Civil Rights movement of the 1950s and 1960s changed America. Since that time, the movement has inspired millions of people to work for human rights causes. In 1988, jazz bassist Christian McBride composed The Movement Revisited, a four-part suite dedicated to four major figures of the Civil Rights movement: Rosa Parks, Malcolm X, Muhammad Ali and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. McBride will kick off the Center’s 2013 – 2014 season with a new incarnation of The Movement Revisited performed by his Big Band and Washington DC’s Heritage Signature Chorale with spoken word selections performed by special guests.

Above, from left to right: Liz Lerman photo by Mike Combsko; Julian Bond; Kojo Nnamdi photo by Nguyen Khuyen; Touré; Marian Wright Edelman.

Left: Christian McBride photo by Anna Webber

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 2013. 10AM – 5:30PM
Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, Kay Theatre

10AM
Artistic-led reflection by Liz Lerman and Vincent Thomas

10:30AM
Jobs and Freedom: How Far Have We Come?, brief presentations by Perla Guerrero, Stephen Thomas, Kalima Young, Darius Graham, Howard Smead, Cedric Harmon and Andy Shallal

12:30PM
A roundtable conversation with UMD students, led by Truman Scholar Muhammad Zia

2PM
Rights, Equality and the American Dream, a roundtable conversation with Kejo Nurumudi and The Rev. Dr. Joanne Braxton, College of William and Mary; Judith Browne-Dianis, Advancement Project; Peter Edelman, Georgetown University Law Center; The Rev. Dr. Christine Wiley, Covenant Baptist United Church of Christ

3:30PM
Artistic-led reflection by Liz Lerman and Vincent Thomas

4PM
Still Marching: The Work That Lies Ahead, a keynote by Marian Wright Edelman

4:45PM
Call to action by Touré

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 2013. 6PM
UMD School of Public Policy, Van Munching Hall

6PM
Opening reception

7PM
Why the March on Washington Still Resonates Today, a keynote by Julian Bond

8:30PM
Artistic-led reflection by Liz Lerman and Vincent Thomas

2PM
Rights, Equality and the American Dream, a roundtable conversation with Kejo Nurumudi and The Rev. Dr. Joanne Braxton, College of William and Mary; Judith Browne-Dianis, Advancement Project; Peter Edelman, Georgetown University Law Center; The Rev. Dr. Christine Wiley, Covenant Baptist United Church of Christ

3:30PM
Artistic-led reflection by Liz Lerman and Vincent Thomas

4PM
Still Marching: The Work That Lies Ahead, a keynote by Marian Wright Edelman

4:45PM
Call to action by Touré