CENTERS ESTABLISHED AND DIRECTED

Office of Planning and Evaluation (Founding Director, 2015-present). This center is responsible for data collection activities that are pertinent to the internal administrative, academic, and research functions of the University of Maryland School of Public Health, and has the capacity to conduct evaluation research for external community-based programs. In collaboration with Kathryn Vincent Carr.

Center on Young Adult Health and Development (Founding Director, 2009-present). This research center is the first such center in the United States specifically dedicated to understanding the health and development of young adults. In collaboration with Kimberly Caldeira (Associate Director) and Kathryn Vincent Carr (Director of Operations).
