Teaching Innovations

1. Process of Inquiry -- 1 credit required seminar for first year FMSC doctoral students, developed with three colleagues, co-taught annually beginning in Fall 2018. We developed this course in response to an assessment of the needs of our doctoral students and gaps observed in their understanding of the research process.

2. Sex, Drugs and Social Media: Adolescent Health and Development -- undergraduate i-series course first taught as a pilot in Spring 2022. I developed this course in order to integrate the critical public health topics that affect adolescents into our undergraduate curriculum, and to meet the need for new i-series classes.
