An Update from the SPH | May 6, 2020

You received this email because of your affiliation with the University of Maryland and the SPH community.

SPH Alumni Network, photos, videos and messages crowdsourced from graduates remarks from Dean Boris Lushniak, Dr. Alyssa Todaro Brooks, president of the UMD Health graduates that may be viewed at your convenience, featuring special be live-streamed at 1:00 pm EST. This ceremony celebrating School of Public Health Virtual Commencement ceremony will be available at Friday, May 22 Spring 2020 Commencement populating during COVID-19.

Join a discussion about health equity and the health disparities in Black and Latinx Populations During COVID-19 Friday, May 8 | 12:00 pm—1:00 pm EST Virtual Fearless Conversations: Addressing Health Disparities in Black and Latinx Populations During COVID-19

Upcoming Events

SPH Research

Congratulations to the outstanding students selected for recognition for their academic and service achievements. While we can't be together in person to celebrate at our annual Convocation event, view their bios and a special message from Dean Lushniak to recognize them!

Recognizing Our 2020 Convocation Awardees

Preparedness and Response

WTO News | What DC Can Learn From the 1918 Flu
The New York Times | Coronavirus Crisis Threatens Housing
Capital Gazette | Maryland Considers Plan to Address Disparity in Black and Hispanic Community
The Washington Post | DC to Distribute Permanent Housing Assistance to Low-Income Families

Staying Healthy and Connected

The Well Terp | 5.06.2020

SPH Faculty in the News

capitalgazette.com | Maryland Considers Plan to Address Disparity in Black and Hispanic Community

SPH Research

The Washington Post | DC to Distribute Permanent Housing Assistance to Low-Income Families

SPH Research

CONCEALED CARRY Permit, DC-based Multicultural Community Health Center,多くてPublic Health Historian, Dr. Marian Moser Jones, says WTOP News | What DC Can Learn From the 1918 Flu

Staying Healthy and Connected

Unsubscribe