Racist Tweets Linked to Heart Disease

A new study led by Dr. Quynh Nguyen shows that racist tweets were associated with an increased prevalence in hypertension, diabetes, obesity and stroke.

SPH Experts Shed Light on Coronavirus

As a novel coronavirus begins to spread around the world, SPH experts are at the forefront of the conversation, helping to correct misinformation and teaching the public how to stay safe.

UMD Front-Runner for $100 Million Grant

The MacArthur Foundation has selected our solution for alleviating food and water insecurity, improving public health and building climate change resilience as a top proposal in the 100&Change competition.

SPH Raises More than $93,000 on Most Successful Giving Day Yet

Thanks to 274 donors—alumni, friends, faculty, staff and students—we raised $93,331, an increase of 116 percent from the previous year!

8th Annual Public Health Research @ Maryland

On Tuesday, April 7, 2020 we will hold our annual public health research showcase at the University of Maryland, College Park.

We are closely monitoring the situation regarding the spread of COVID-19 and will assess possible changes to the format of the event given the most timely health and safety guidance. We encourage your poster submissions and will keep you updated about any changes as decisions are made in the coming days and weeks.

Register »
Submit Your Abstract/Poster Here »

PHILANTHROPY

Paving a Way Back to School: New Scholarship to Help Returning Students

Maureen Bryant ’01, founder of Spontaneity, LLC, established the Irene Scholarship to provide financial and academic support students returning to college after a break of at least two years.

PHILANTHROPY

Student Services Fund

Your gift to this fund supports the promotion of health and elimination of health disparities as well as expanded opportunities for students to get the training and education that will help them solve the challenges of public health.

ALUMNI PROFILE

Renee Ngozi Nwankwo (Certificate in Global Health ’20)

With a background in nursing and a master’s in public health, Renee Ngozi Nwankwo, a lieutenant in the US Public Health Service says the Global Health Certificate at Maryland gave her the skills—and confidence—she needed to pursue public health on a global level.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Prince Georges County Health Action Coalition End of Year Meeting

March 30, 4:00 pm – 5:00 pm
Open Miccio, MD

African-American General Conference and Family Reunion

March 21, 10:00 am – 1:00 pm
Montgomery County

This is Public Health Graduate School Fair

March 21, 10:00 am – 1:00 pm
McNair Scholars Conference Center

2020 Gold Public Health Innovation Award Competition

March 23, 3:30 pm – 5:00 pm
SPH Building, Room 2236

American Climate Leadership Summit

March 25-26, 8:00 am – 5:00 pm
Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center

Health Professions Graduate School Recruitment Fair

April 2, 10:00 am – 2:00 pm
Stamp Student Union

Accepted Applicants’ Day 2020

April 7, 8:00 am – 2:00 pm
Adele H. Stamp Student Union