An Update from the SPH | April 22, 2020

To: bfaris@umd.edu

Re: An Update from the SPH | April 22, 2020

This compounds existing climate risks faced by environmental justice regulation order connected to the COVID-19 crisis and highlight why breakdown the Environmental Protection Agency’s recent de-webinar will feature a panel of environmental justice leaders who will by the National Adaptation Forum. The climate equity-focused health, will participate in an April 28th, 4:00 pm EST webinar hosted Sacoby Wilson, an associate professor of applied environmental

Compounding Crises

Health Professionals During COVID-19

Facebook Live Chat Today at Noon

SPH Events

Stories From the Front Lines

SPH COVID-19 Resources and Stories

SPH Faculty in the News

Mandatory Mask De Cloth Masks Protected You From Getting the Coronavirus?

The CDC recommends that the general public wear cloth face masks to help reduce the spread of respiratory droplets from the mouth and nose, especially when social distancing is not possible. This guidance is consistent with the recommendations of the American Medical Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics. The CDC states that masks are not recommended for children under the age of two years.

An Update from the SPH | April 22, 2020

This compounds existing climate risks faced by environmental justice regulation order connected to the COVID-19 crisis and highlight why breakdown the Environmental Protection Agency’s recent de-webinar will feature a panel of environmental justice leaders who will by the National Adaptation Forum. The climate equity-focused health, will participate in an April 28th, 4:00 pm EST webinar hosted Sacoby Wilson, an associate professor of applied environmental

Compounding Crises

Health Professionals During COVID-19

Facebook Live Chat Today at Noon

SPH Events

Stories From the Front Lines

SPH COVID-19 Resources and Stories

SPH Faculty in the News

Mandatory Mask De Cloth Masks Protected You From Getting the Coronavirus?

The CDC recommends that the general public wear cloth face masks to help reduce the spread of respiratory droplets from the mouth and nose, especially when social distancing is not possible. This guidance is consistent with the recommendations of the American Medical Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics. The CDC states that masks are not recommended for children under the age of two years.